DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE REFUSE TO BE BOUND

Therefore Roosevelt's Economy Bill Will Face Hard Road

Washington, March 11—(AP)—Representative Woodrum (D. Va.) was hissed and booed in the House today when he suggested President Roosevelt would use the roll call on his economy bill as a test of the Democracy of House Democrats.

Senate Democratic leaders decided today to postpone calling up the administration economy bill until next week.

Washington, March 11—(AP)—The Roosevelt economy bill hit a stormy road in the House today, with the Democratic ranks on the loose for and against it.

In caucus, the Democrats fell short by fourteen votes of binding their great majority to support the President. The leadership was able to get the bill up as soon as the House met, however, by a voice vote that downed its opponents.

Thus, with support evident on the Republican side, there was no apparent diminution of confidence among those close to President Roosevelt that he would get the extensive power requested over veterans and federal payroll expenditures.

In his special message yesterday, he asked it to enable a half billion cut in federal expenses to make a balanced budget possible in the next year.

The Democratic caucus vote was 174 to 108 in favor of being bound, but 188 were required to put it over.

Leaders Go Ahead

Although defeated in their caucus efforts to bind the membership for the program in secret caucus, the Democratic leaders went ahead with their plans in an effort to secure action today.

They were leaning on much support from the Republican membership. Representative Luce of Massachusetts, after a meeting of the Republican steering committee, said the general Republican sentiment was for the Roosevelt bill.

A majority vote is needed to approve it in the House, and a count appeared likely before mid-afternoon.

On the Senate side, the Finance committee heard the bill whacked right and left by the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor and other organizations.

John Thomas Taylor, chairman of the Legion's legislative committee, said "this is not the time to be stampeded."

He asked for delay, saying Congress should retain its authority over veterans' laws; and "the Legion will itself submit recommendations for elimination of injustices in veterans' laws."

To Withhold Message

Roosevelt decided to withhold "indefinitely" his special message recommending a bond issue and the enlisting of 500,000 unemployed men into camps.

He originally had planned to send the message today.

At the White House, it was said the Chief Executive might decide to send the message on Monday but there was a possibility that he might withhold it until later in the week.

Authoritative quarters felt that Roosevelt desired to wait until the congressional air cleared from his yesterday's message requesting authority to slash $500,000,000 or more from federal expenditures.

John Dick Passed Away At Farm Home

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, Mar. 11—John Dick passed away at 10 o'clock this morning at his farm home five miles south of Polo. He had been ailing with heart trouble for the past four weeks and had been confined to his home for the past week when his condition became quite serious.

Mr. Dick was born in Scotland, January 25, 1858 and came to the United States when quite young. He had resided on farms in the vicinity of Polo for the past several years. He was united in marriage to Martha Madison, January 13, 1890, who survives him.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the East Jordan church, Rev. George L. McClanathan officiating.

Senator Howell Of Nebraska Is Called

Washington, March 11—(AP)—Senator Howell of Nebraska died of a heart attack about 1 P. M. CST, today at Walter Reed hospital.

The Nebraska Senator had been ill for several weeks of pneumonia which later developed several complications.

His condition took a turn for the worse several days ago after it had appeared that he might recover.

SENATOR DAVIS UNDER KNIFE IN PITTSBURGH, PA.

Head Of Moose Stricken While Flying To Washington

Pittsburgh, March 11—(AP)—Stricken by appendicitis while on an airplane trip home on business, U. S. Senator James L. Davis (R. Pa.) underwent a successful operation today.

Dr. John W. Shirer, who performed the operation, later said the patient's condition is good and he is resting well.

The Senator had expected to return to Washington today in time to attend the session of the Senate, his secretary said.

He arrived in Pittsburgh shortly after 8 o'clock last night and was taken to the hospital an hour later. Dr. Shirer said Senator Davis had been bothered by his appendix for some time but the condition did not become acute until after he boarded the plane in Washington yesterday.

Davis also has diabetes, the surgeon added. He said for this reason, complications were possible and the patient is being watched closely.

WILL DELAY TRIAL

New York, March 11—(AP)—United States Senator James J. Davis, who underwent an appendicitis operation in Pittsburgh today, was scheduled to go to trial in Federal Court here Monday on charges involving the conduct of an alleged letter for the Loyal Order of Moose.

"The government is ready for the trial and will insist that it begin as soon as Senator Davis is well enough," Louis Mead Treadwell, Assistant United States Attorney, announced. He said he would oppose any longer-than-necessary continuance.

Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh Davis' attorney, said that the defense was just as anxious to get the trial over.

The case was called last Monday, but continued to permit Davis to attend the opening of the special session of Congress, his attorneys contending that his "wisdom" and "experience" would be needed.

The Senator was placed on trial last fall, alone, but a mistrial resulted after two weeks of testimony. In his next trial he will have two co-defendants. They are Theodore G. Miller, Moose official, and Raymond Walsh. The latter was assistant to Bernard C. McGwire, professional promoter, who pleaded guilty in the case.

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS IN LONG BEACH

A row of stores in Long Beach, Calif., ripped open by the quakes. This city was hardest hit by the disaster with over 65 known dead and more than a thousand injured.

NATIVE OF LEE COUNTY AMONG QUAKE VICTIMS

Born In Paw Paw, Dr. A. M. Firkins Killed at Compton, Cal.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Among the list of quake victims appeared the name of Dr. Ashley Firkins, who was a former resident of Lee county. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Neil Firkins of Paw Paw, where he was raised and was united in marriage to a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, also of that vicinity.

As a young man he went to Canada where he entered the practice of dentistry and several years ago moved to Compton, Cal., where he has been a very successful practitioner of dental surgery. He occupied a suite of offices in one of the largest office buildings in that city. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

Many former residents of Lee county are at present residents of the vicinity of Los Angeles and the vicinity where the quakes were at their worst, but up until noon today none of the names of those who had gone to California in recent years were included in the death list. Several from various parts of the county are spending the winter months in and near Los Angeles.

Relatives Are Safe

It was with some difficulty that Dr. Willard Thompson of this city secured long distance telephone connections with Los Angeles late last night, where his two sons, "Lyle" and "Woody" are located, the latter attending the University of Southern California. Telephone lines were down in many places and at a late hour last night, Dr. and Mrs. Thompson learned that both of their sons had escaped injury in the series of earth tremors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Raymond are in receipt of a telegram from Mrs. R. D. Pearsall, of Long Beach, Cal., formerly Miss Elizabeth Raymond, their daughter, assuring them that she and her family are all well and uninjured. They reside about four miles from where the quakes were most severe.

Special Election For Chicago Mayor Aim Of Gov. Horner

Chicago, March 11—(AP)—Another political campaign opened in Chicago today, with dozens of potential candidates for the honor and power that goes with the Mayor's office.

Gov. Henry Horner announced he would sponsor legislation to empower the city council to elect a mayor pro tempore until a special election can be held to name a successor to Anton J. Cermak, who was killed in Florida by an assassin's bullet and was buried with lavish honors yesterday.

Politics had been held in abeyance until after the funeral and no man was a favorite to replace, during the unexpected term, the four Democrats who were left in charge of the municipal government when Cermak went to Florida in January.

"Tony" Cermak, immigrant boy who became mayor of the nation's second largest city, was given its largest burial. Half a million watched as fifty thousand marched in the procession to the cemetery.

BANKS OF COUNTRY TO OPEN FIRST OF COMING WEEK, TREASURY SAYS

Gold Hoarders Keep Up Rush To Bank Their Holdings

PREPARE FOR OPENING

Washington, March 11—(AP)—Preparations for a gradual reopening of all sound banks next week went ahead today under a presidential order directing the 12 Federal Reserve institutions to perform the necessary functions.

The immediate objective of the twelve banks was to supply enough money to meet payrolls and provide funds for necessities of life over the week-end. Between times, the Federal Reserve banks are to make advances to permit some sound member banks to go back to work possibly by Monday.

The reopening—state as well as national banks—will be on a licensing system. Before any institution can resume unrestricted operations it must have a certificate of soundness, from the Treasury in the case of national banks and from state officials in the case of state institutions.

Rapidly As Possible

Licenses to reopen will be distributed as rapidly as possible and in the order in which applications are received and soundness established.

Don't Worry About Banks, Says Roosevelt

Washington, March 11—(AP)—President Roosevelt has asked depositors not to be concerned if, under his gradual reopening plan, a bank does not open next Monday or Tuesday.

The probability today was that some banks would resume full operations Monday. However, it takes time to determine the soundness of all the country's banks.

The President said that if banks did not open early next week, that did not mean they would not eventually be thrown open.

Hence President Roosevelt and Secretary Woodin expressed the hope that the fact a bank remained closed early next week would not be interpreted by depositors to mean that the institution was unsound.

Meanwhile, there appeared a difference among congressional supporters of President Roosevelt over guaranteeing bank deposits. Senator McAdoo (D. Cal.) introduced a bill to that end although some other administration followers indicated they would not approve such a step.

Regulations Eased

Another easing of the regulations came from the Treasury today at the same time that the Senate recovered from the apprehensions that sent the emergency banking bill through on Thursday.

The change in regulation will permit banks to subscribe to United States government obligations and perform functions necessary to the subscriptions. The government's March 15 financing will have to (Continued on Page 2)

SALES TAX BILL WILL BE CENTER OF HARD BATTLE

Gov. Horner Will Lead Attack To Secure Bill's Passage

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 11—(AP)—When Governor Horner returns to Springfield he is likely to find the administration sponsored sales tax bill confronted with serious difficulties in the House of Representatives.

Already passed by the Senate, the proposal fell 20 votes short of the 102 necessary for enactment as emergency legislation on the only test vote had so far in the House.

The full force of the administration, it was indicated, will be brought to bear during the next few days to obtain the needed votes in an effort to bring about enactment at next week's session.

The test vote in the House, which came this week on an amendment that would have radically altered the character of the bill, showed 82 Representatives supporting the administration, 51 in opposition, and 20 either absent or not voting.

The vote evidenced the administration's ability to obtain passage of the measure without the emergency clause. To do so would require but 77 votes. The Governor, however, wants the measure passed as emergency legislation so the bill may be put into immediate effect rather than wait until July 1 as would be necessary if the emergency clause were stricken.

Is On Third Reading

The bill, now on third reading in the House and past the amendment state without additions or alterations radically altering its provisions as passed by the Senate, will probably occupy much of the Assembly's time at next week's session.

TOLL OF SERIES OF QUAKE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IS NOT YET KNOWN; DAMAGE HIGH

Long Beach, Compton, And Los Angeles Hardest Hit; Twenty-three Distinct Tremors Are Recorded

BULLETIN

Los Angeles, March 11—(AP)—The unofficial death toll in the southern California earthquake mounted to 140 today as additional bodies were found. About 2,000 were estimated to have been injured and the damage was placed by relief agencies at approximately $35,000,000.

Long Beach, on the coast near Los Angeles, was the hardest hit. The death there totaled 74 and D. W. Pontius, member of the Governor's Emergency Relief Committee, said the property damage would amount to $25,000,000 in that city alone.

Compton and Huntington Park suffered heavily. Compton reported eighteen dead and Huntington Park sixteen with extensive damage to buildings.

The work of digging into the wreckage of building, homes and apartments was going steadily forward, and there were indications additional bodies will be recovered.

Swiftly the available relief and reconstruction agencies mobilized to aid the suffering. Anticipating help from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, workers were busy administering to the stricken and preparing to repair or rebuild property.

Los Angeles, March 11—(AP)—Light earth shocks continued in southern California today in the wake of a terrifying quake which early last night caused the death of at least 132 persons, injuries to possibly 4,000, and untold millions of dollars property damage.

There had been 23 distinct shocks at 9 o'clock this morning.

Three, Flying To Quake Area, Killed—

Los Angeles, March 11—(AP)—Three men were killed early today when their airplane crashed as they were enroute to Long Beach to render aid to quake victims.

They were: Frederick Porter, Chicago Sportsman and pilot owner of the plane.

Captain Charles Towne, field manager of the Santa Monica airport.

Sergeant Charles Morton of the Santa Monica Police Department.

but they generally were of diminishing intensity.

Most of the death and destruction was confined to the violent initial shock which was accompanied by a peculiar roar, rocked the section at 5:55 P. M., yesterday, shaking buildings walls down and starting fires.

At Garden Grove, a section severely affected, with the damage running high, the American Legion was placed in charge and the town was closed to all visitors. The same precaution was taken at Buena Park.

Governor Rolph was advised by members of the Emergency Council that the co-ordinated relief and security measures taken shortly after the first tremor had been well-handled.

Was Well Handled

"We have inspected the principal areas affected at Long Beach, San Pedro, Compton and Los Angeles suburban communities," said the report to the Governor, "and we find the work has been so well-handled it will not be necessary to declare a statewide emergency and mobilize Emergency Council forces outside Los Angeles county."

The report said there were food shortages at Long Beach and at Compton, but that immediate steps were taken to relieve this situation.

Roland A. Vandegrift, Director of State Finance, was to advise the committee concerning the financing of relief work.

Mobilization of American Legionnaires today covered all of southern California from Tehachapi to the Mexican border.

The massive structures that compose the Los Angeles Civic Center withstood the force of the tremors and showed only slight marks caused by the jarring and twisting.

Some plaster fell at the State House, the court house and the city hall.

In the Los Angeles downtown area, damage generally was confined to broken windows, wall stain and falling stucco and plaster.

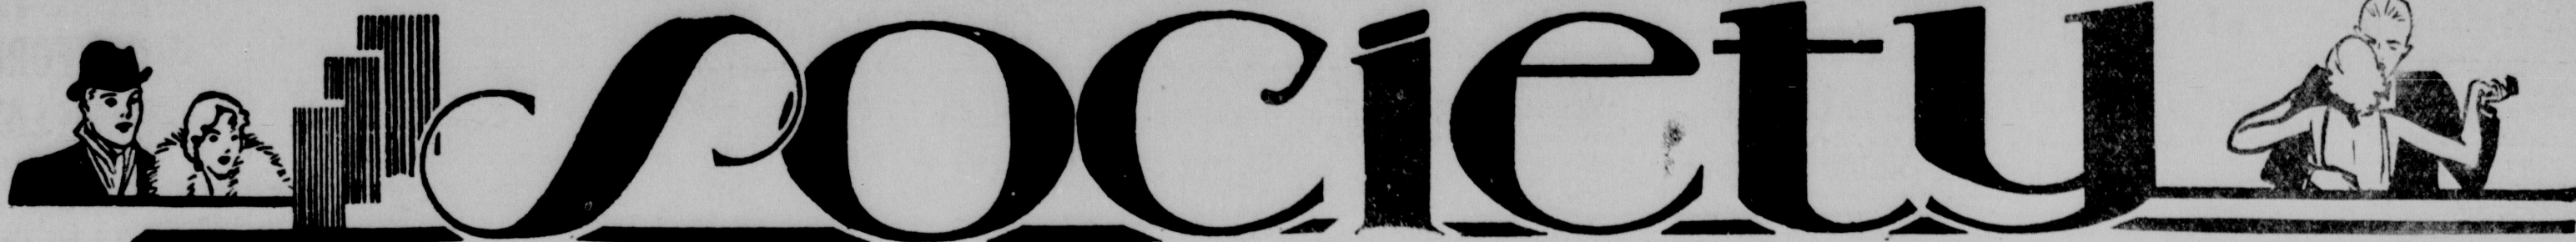

Branch City Hall Closed

The San Pedro branch city hall, however, a seven story structure, remained closed except to police and firemen. Prisoners who had been in the jail on the seventh floor were transferred to Los Angeles.

There was considerable damage to the Matson piers in Wilmington. One large crack in the pavement of the decking extended half a mile and was a foot wide in some places. Cargoes in the pier sheds were partially damaged.

Several hundred Japanese residents of Terminal Island, frightened into camping out all night in the San Pedro hills by unfounded reports of oncoming tidal waves, returned to their homes today.

THE WAY WE BEAR OUR CROSS

God keep us through these somber days.
These days when doubt and fear surround,
When pessimism clouds our gaze,
And naught but self seems worth the count.

Master, stretch our vision far
Keep thou our heart serene
Preserve intact our childhood faith
Upon its precepts, trustful lean.

Teach us it matters not the trial
The emptiness of earthly loss,
But all worthwhile is just the way
We bear our cross.

Over 800 Patterns in Telegraph's Wonder Package

Fifteen more beautiful designs are shown above from the Telegraph's Wonder Package of over 800 patterns. The size of this square is 18 by 24 inches, this being only one-half of one of the twelve sheets contained in the package.

These designs can be used for so many different things, luncheon sets, towels, girls' dresses, handkerchiefs, table and dresser scarfs, etc.

Now Furniture Decoration
You can now decorate the furniture, chairs, tables, cupboard doors; just transfer the design and fill in with colored enamels and you have a very delightful and attractive effect.

Transferring of these designs is a very simple matter, merely use a small amount of water on the back of design and rub with a spoon. Each design can be used ten or twelve times and with over 800 patterns this gives you several thousand designs.

A Variety of Uses
It is interesting to know that

Didn't IT Rain, 14th Meeting of Ladies Aid Brethren Church

The Ladies' Aid of the Brethren church had their weekly meeting Thursday with an attendance of ten. They have met each week all winter and have had plenty of work to do. They have made but little money for their work has been for the needy of the city and a good many homes have been made a little more cheerful and happy because of their efforts. One might think that working for others without any remuneration would become a drudgery but to the contrary they have had a lot of real pleasure in helping others. There is also plenty of merriment when they get together to drive all the blues away. One of the members, Mrs. Ed Myers, has been out of the city for several weeks and recently returned and attended the first meeting Thursday since her return. A good deal of fun has been indulged in at her expense but Thursday it reached the climax when there was presented to her a miniature rocking chair with the following poetry:

Just a little bit of humor,
Mixed in with daily strife
Is just what we thing helps to make
A happy Christian life.

Life is just so full of blessings
From the Father's gracious hand,
And one of them is just to know
You

Since you've come to join our band.
With your sunny disposition
And your ways and manners too,
There is such a friendly feeling,
When we're in contact with you.

We have missed your merry laughter
All the while you've been away,
And we hope that now you're with us

You are surely back to stay.
We all love you, sister Myers,
And believe us when we say,
That we hope this little chair
Will rock your cares away.

Company K..... March
Christopher Morley has commented upon March's courage in writing this "anthology of dismay." Though unassuming in its manner, it yet lands a terrific body-blow against modern warfare. It merely recounts through the mouths of average soldiers what are convincing facts, and horrible ones. The author is no theorist—he was there, and won several decorations for valor.

Imitation of Life..... Hurst
Bea Pullman, a widow at 18, facing the world with a baby daughter, starts a tiny-hole-in-the-wall restaurant to keep herself alive. The business grew, became a chain, and almost imperceptibly the young widow became a woman of affairs. Yet in success she meets a new adversary.

Hardy Perennial..... Hull
The author of "Heat Lightning" writes a novel of a woman's struggle to determine, through the shifting values of her relation to her husband, and her children, what she has a right to expect for herself in the way of happiness, and what, finally, she accepts.

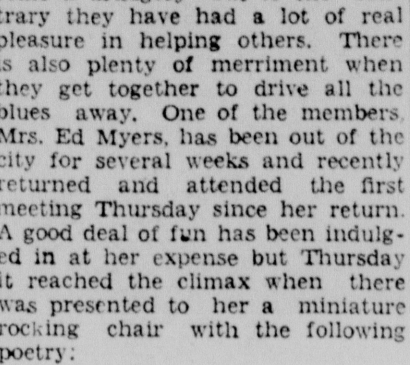

Black Cabin..... Peyton
Under the spell of the drowsy Virginia countryside, three young people, looking at life with the frankness of modern youth, blurred by inherited convention, grope for the fullness each demands of life.

Talks With Mussolini..... Ludwis
A remarkable series of interviews with the famous dictator, so skillfully managed by the author that they permit Mussolini to present his philosophy of government as well as his ideas on history and his own destiny. The book presents a strangely calm Mussolini who is quite unfamiliar to the readers of American newspapers.

Mrs. Blinn Bryan is director of the play. No admission, but a silver offering will be taken to help defray expense of the play. The public is invited.

Meeting St. James Aid Society Held

The St. James Aid met at the home of Mrs. Leon Burket, east of Dixon. Assisting her in entertaining were Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Ida Burket, Mrs. Wilbur Maves.

These ladies served a wonderful chicken and noodle dinner, to which all did justice.

At 2 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. Bothe. Neaning St. Patrick's Day, the song, "Wearing of the Green," seemed appropriate. The president read from the 23rd chapter of Luke.

Roll call and minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report read and approved.

A community supper at St. James church, was planned for Wednesday, March 15th for outgoing and incoming neighbors.

Old business and new business was discussed, which was followed by a penny march.

Program
Piano solo—Mrs. Everett Duffy.
Reading—Miss Mandana Greene.
Reading—Mrs. Clarence Bothe.
Reading—Mrs. A. L. Hardy.

Those to take part in the program for April are as follows: Mrs. Brant, Mrs. H. John, Mrs. Fuqua, Mrs. Noda Burket.

The meeting closed with all repeating the Lord's Prayer, to meet in April with Mrs. August John and Mrs. Sam Hartzell with Mrs. Sadie Duffy assisting.

Mrs. Geo. Prescott Entertains C. C. Circle Friday After'n

The C. C. Circle of the Christian church was delightfully entertained by Mrs. George Prescott, at her home, Friday afternoon.

The daughters of the hostess, Mrs. Genevieve Prescott Wirth, Mrs. Dorothy Prescott Hardy and Mrs. Lyle Prescott assisted.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the Roll Call.

Mrs. Dorothy Hardy conducted a guessing contest, by passing pictures of well-known ads, such as one advertising Campbell's soup. In the twelve ads, Mrs. Herbert Hoan guessed eleven correctly and was presented a lovely set of salt and pepper shakers by the hostess.

A delicious lunch of salad, hot rolls, dainty cakes, cheese wafers, and coffee was served from quartette tables with paper luncheon sets in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Twenty-two members and seven guests enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

A real surprise came when Mrs. S. D. Hitchner, who formerly lived here, and who was Secretary of the Circle at one time appeared, and greeted all.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chas. Ruggles, Mrs. Earl Newcomb assisting, on the second Friday in April.

BUCKBEE HAS GOOD BILL.

Hon. John T. Buckbee of Rockford, member of Congress from the twelfth Illinois district, has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which would materially help the American farmer because it would afford a new outlet for grain. The bill is titled, "A bill to raise revenue, protect American labor, and assist the American farmer by providing for the use in motor fuels of alcohol manufactured from agricultural products grown upon the farm in the United States." Congressman Buckbee, in a letter to the editor of The Telegraph, that his bill would relieve the corn situation to an extent of upwards of six hundred and fifty million bushels of corn. The bill would require that all motor fuel contain a mixture of at least ten per cent of alcohol manufactured from corn and other agricultural products. The text of his bill which is numbered H. R. 14791, is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that this Act may be cited as the "Agricultural Alcohol Motor Fuel Act."

Section 2. As used in this Act—

(1) The term "United States" includes the States and the District of Columbia.

(2) The term "motor fuel" means any of the following having a specific gravity of thirty-six degrees or above Baume scale, and suitable for use in an internal-combustion engine: Gasoline, kerosene, naphtha, benzene, crude oil, and other petroleum products.

(3) The term "agricultural products" means corn and all other agricultural products grown upon the farm within the United States.

(4) The term "person" includes an individual, partnership, association, or corporation.

Sec. 3. There is hereby imposed on motor fuel sold by the importer thereof or by a producer of motor fuel, unless at least 10 per centum thereof, by volume, is alcohol manufactured from agricultural products grown upon the farms within the United States, a tax of 10 cents per gallon, such tax to be in addition to any other tax imposed by law.

Sec. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell motor fuel in the United States unless at least 10 per centum thereof, by volume, is alcohol manufactured from agricultural products.

Sec. 5. The Act entitled "An Act for the withdrawal from bond, tax free, of domestic alcohol when rendered unfit for beverage or liquid medicinal uses by mixture with suitable denaturing materials," approved June 7, 1906, is amended by adding at the end of the first paragraph of section 1 thereof a new sentence as follows: "Domestic alcohol manufactured from agricultural products may be withdrawn from bond, without the payment of the internal-revenue tax, for use in motor fuels as provided in the Agricultural Alcohol Motor Fuel Act, without mixing such alcohol with methyl alcohol or other denaturing material or materials."

Sec. 6. This Act shall take effect sixty days after the date of its enactment, except that section 5 shall take effect upon the date of its enactment.

Sec. 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3 and 4, the requirement under this Act as to the percentage of alcoholic content shall be 2 per centum during the first sixty days after this Act takes effect, with an increase of 1 per centum for each six months thereafter until 10 per centum is reached.

Sec. 8. Any person violating the provisions of this Act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

COUNTRY TURNS TO PRESIDENT.

No American president in all history has ever occupied quite the position that President Roosevelt occupies today.

By a unique combination of circumstances, he stands in the spot where all of the hopes and fears of the nation converge. The fears are greater than ever before and the hopes are more passionate. Every problem that the country faces—and that are many of them, overwhelming in size and complexity—has been dumped on his doorstep. The responsibility that all of this puts on his shoulders is almost beyond belief.

Because the nature and extent of that responsibility are widely realized, Mr. Roosevelt begins his term with the whole-hearted best wishes of all Americans, regardless of party. This is at once his strength and his weakness. If he succeeds he will succeed greatly; if he fails his failure will be immeasurable.

We have come to realize, in the hard years of the depression, that we can drift no longer—because drifting is taking us directly toward a cataract. We have also come to realize that the program which is to save us must come from the White House—because experience has shown us that it cannot possibly come from anywhere else. Today, as never before, we have placed our fortunes, our hopes for the future, our confidence in the American way of life, in the hands of our president. We have given him, so to speak, a blank check. From now on it is up to him.

There is something sobering, almost frightening, about it; but something which, at the same time, is vastly encouraging.

We have endured much since the fall of 1929; yet we have not given up our faith in those democratic institutions which have always been our pride. We have not set up a long record of bloody riots. We have not called out armed bodies to dispose of our legislative assemblies. We have spoken our minds through the orderly processes of the ballot box, and today we are putting our problems in the hands of a man of our own choosing. The framework of our society has withstood a great strain. The rest depends—not on institutions, but on The Man.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

Washington—(AP)—That story about Mrs. Harold Ickes, wife of the new Secretary of the Interior, having snakes around the house as pets was slightly inflated, she said just before returning to Illinois to resume her seat in the General Assembly.

She explained that keeping the reptiles about the Ickes home wasn't for the want of pets. The snakes, now disposed of, belonged to her son, Raymond, who was at the time the youngest member of the National Reptile Association.

"But," said Raymond's mother, "I had to take care of them."

As a member of the Illinois legislature she said she was interested in a bill proposed to revise the partial payment laws so that installment plan purchasers would not lose goods on which substantial payments had been made.

As the legislature probably will not adjourn until June, Mrs. Ickes said she does not intend to spend much time in Washington until then.

Rep. James G. Strong, Republican of Kansas, puts it this way: "I couldn't throw a stone in any direction in Livingston county, Ill., without hitting a relative."

The Kansan was born at Dwight, Ill. His father was James G. Strong, lawyer, banker, and business man, and a Republican member of both houses of the Illinois legislature. His mother was Rebecca M. Witt, a cousin of Daniel Boone and Joaquin Miller.

Call them chips or shavings, but nevertheless:

Rep. Leonard William Schuetz, Democrat of Chicago, always keeps his door to his office in the House locked because he wants people to knock before they are admitted.

Martin Brennan, Illinois' new Congressman—at large, reported that he spent only $2 in his campaign. That was for an electrical recording of a campaign speech.

Is it wisdom to attempt to repair or rebuild one's financial house when a hurricane is blowing? Any city where its citizens do not show confidence in each other cannot expect the outside world to have any confidence in it.

Dr. Collins
X-Ray Electrodes
Springfield, Ill., Mar. 10 (AP)—Dr. C. Ward Collins, Springfield, Ill., chiropractor and noted in his profession for his research contributions, was electrocuted this morning while operating an X-ray machine in his office. It is estimated that between 130,000 and 150,000 volts passed through his body.

Dr. Collins was preparing to take an X-ray picture, when the tragedy occurred. Mrs. Collins, also a licensed chiropractor and associated with her husband in his practice, was in an adjoining room.

Born in Rockford of an Illinois pioneer family, who gave their name to the town of Collinsville, the doctor was a graduate of the Princeton University and of the Palmer School of Chiropractic. He has practiced here eleven years.

THE TINYMITES
Story by HAL COCHRAN
Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As Duncy sat upon the ground, the band of beetles gathered round and made a funny, buzzing sound. One cried, "What shall we do?"

"We have a prisoner and now I think we ought to show him how we scare all fellows. Come, we'll show him something new."

"A war dance is the very thing. Come on, you beetles, let's all swing around him in a circle. Then we'll watch him squirm with fright."

The dance was started right away. To Duncy, though, 'twas merely play. In fact he quite enjoyed it. It was quite a thrilling sight.

The other Tines waited for wee Duncy for an hour or more. Then Scouty said, "There's something wrong. He should be back by now."

"Perhaps the beetle Duncy now soon found he was a heavy load. I wonder if they took a spill? We must find out somehow."

"Where shall we look?" another said. "Perhaps we'd better call, instead. I'll shout his name and, if he's near, I know he'll answer me."

Then Duncy, "DUNCY" rang out in the air. No answer came from anywhere. The Tines were really worried. Where could Duncy be?

Just then a big wasp joined the bunch. He said, "Well, lads, I have a hunch that there is trouble some place. Tell me what it's all about."

"Well, Duncy took a beetle ride. He should be back here by our side." "Ah, ha!" exclaimed the wasp, "he is a prisoner, no doubt."

"A foxy bug, the beetle! Gee, you lads had better follow me. We'll hike to beetle village, just to see if Duncy's there."

The wasp then pulled his stinger sword. "Now, forward, charge," he loudly roared. "We may run into battle, but I really do not care."

(The wasp surprises the beetles in the next story.)

RELIEF GARDENS CONSIDERED BY CO. COMMISSION

Program Submitted By State Commission Is Being Studied

The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission has outlined a program of summer gardening which has been submitted to the Lee County Emergency Commission for consideration. The program outlines four plans of gardening for the coming summer, the produce to be utilized entirely in feeding of the poor and needy. The state commission will provide seed and fertilizer for any of the four projects.

Home gardening where small gardens may be planted at the homes of those receiving relief; the gardening of vacant lots in and near the city; community plot gardens, in which space would be assigned to families, and community mass production gardens are recommended to the Lee county commission. In the latter, the product of the gardens could be harvested and stored for use next winter or divided at the expiration of the season, this disposition being left to the local commission.

In the county a special subsistence gardens committee will be appointed by the members of the county emergency relief commission which will have full charge of the direction and supervision of the gardens in the county, as well as the distribution of the seeds and fertilizer. The Lee county committee has not decided which plan will be adopted in Lee county, but it is quite apparent that one or more of the four plans will be adopted shortly so that arrangements can be made for the launching of the program with the opening of spring.

DOWN AT DEATH'S DOOR

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"Have you ever been down at death's door?" writes a friend who has been desperately ill. "It is a profound experience. One sees more clearly than ever before what life really is and ought to be. Big things shrivel up, little things loom large. Honors one longed for, victories won by having our own way, thirst for revenge, exacting our rights, pride and ambition—how petty these things become. One discerns the meaning of life, what true values are and the folly of running after false ones."

In a remarkable letter my friend goes on to tell what he learned in an illness that lasted some two years. At first he was sad and hopeless, as if under a dark cloud of dejection, unable to see any way out. Then, suddenly, he came to believe—practically, not as a nice theory—in the personal immortality of the soul. At once everything was different, as if a light had been turned on in a dark room. He saw that he had been living life with an entirely wrong idea of what life is.

In the light of a flash he saw that his standard of values had been wrong, and it staggered him. He had been ambitious for power, covetous of place, eager for comfort and praise and respect, and these things about which he had fretted became trivial. He saw that what really matters is his relation with the souls of men, and above all with God. Of course, in a way, he knew that before, but not as he knows it now. So much that was dim in other days he now sees with an awful clarity.

Today his one passionate belief is a belief in love—love of friend, love of neighbor, love of God, who now seems very real and near. With this is joined the absolute faith that we are all of us, from the lowest to the highest, knit together with chains of nearness to each other and to God, now, hereafter and forever.

For the first time he wishes he might live his life over again, if only to grade the things worth while. What does it matter what folk say about us? Why fret about a few blasted plans? At the door of death he has learned what life is and what are the things worth living for.

Income Taxes Explained By Commissioner

DEDUCTION FOR LOSSES OTHER THAN FROM SALE OR EXCHANGE OF STOCKS AND BONDS

Deductions for losses are divided into three classes, and to be allowed must follow closely the wording of the income tax laws. Losses are deductible if incurred (1) in the taxpayer's trade, business, or profession; (2) in any transaction entered into for profit; or (3) from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualties, or by theft.

Business losses result usually from the purchase and sale of merchandise. Such losses usually are ascertained by means of inventories, which are required whenever in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue their use is necessary to determine the income of taxpayer.

The term "transaction entered into for profit" means any kind of business proposition. For example, a taxpayer purchases an automobile to be used solely for business purposes, and which is sold at a loss. As this is a business proposition from start to finish, the loss is deductible. But if he had purchased the automobile to be used for pleasure or convenience, the deduction would not be allowed; it was not a transaction entered into for profit.

A loss sustained in the theft of an automobile purchased for pleasure or convenience is deductible, as it falls in class 3. If, because of faulty driving but not of "willful negligence," an automobile maintained for pleasure is damaged, the taxpayer may claim the loss sustained, as it comes within the meaning of the word "casualty." Where damages result from the faulty driving of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, the loss occasioned, the taxpayer likewise is deductible.

All losses are deductible only to the extent by which they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

If you have something to sell and are in a big hurry to sell it, let the classified advertising department of The Dixon Telegraph prove its ability as a speedy and efficient sales medium.

FINALS REACHED

IN DISTRICT H. S. CAGE TOURNAMENT

Large Scores Frequent
In Friday Evening's
Floor Contests

Monticello high today had the distinction of being the first district basketball champion for 1933, but by bedtime tonight, 60 other Illinois high schools will have joined the parade into the sectionals.

Monticello last night grabbed the first place in the next elimination series by defeating Cero Gordo, 27 to 17, in the Monticello district final. Others were down to the finals today and nearly every district had been reduced to the semi-finals.

As the list dwindled last night, the scores grew larger. Sixty or more points were not unusual—there were plenty in the fifties and forty-odds were as common as basketballs. At Pekin, however, Kingsman of Peoria, needed two overtime periods to subdue Tremont, 28 to 26.

Famous Rivals Meet
Naperville and West Aurora appeared to be the standouts at Aurora. At DeKalb, those famous rivals, Waterman and Sycamore will meet tonight for the right to move on. Waterman last night blasted Kingston, 67 to 10, and Sycamore walloped Malta, 54 to 9, to reach the finals. Benton, another favorite, cut loose for a 47 to 15 victory over Woodlawn at West Frankfort, to demonstrate its power.

Teams stamped by their season records as contenders, for the most part, continued to cut their way through all opposition and to tonight's finals were expected to reverse to tight battles and close scores.

ROSENBOOM IS LUCKY TO TRIM ADOLPH HEUSER
Maxie Ran Into Hard Customer In Teuton Friday Eve

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom still ruled over his section of the light heavyweight roost today but only by turning back a formidable challenge by the youthful German puncher, Adolph Heuser.

The Harlem clown, in grand shape for once, eked out a decision over Heuser in Madison Square Garden last night in a spectacular 15-round bout surprising because it was so closely contested. The result left Maxie still holding New York state recognition as 175-pound titleholder.

Rosenbloom, always hard to beat even by experienced rivals was a 2 to 1 betting favorite and had been expected to win without trouble.

Instead, he found himself belted around the ring through the first six rounds and twice in danger of a knockout. After that, however, Maxie came back in great style to pile up point after point with a flicking left and a slapping right, and produce, at the same time, an effective defense for Heuser's major weapons. At the finish Heuser's left eye was all but closed and he was bleeding freely from cut lips.

Heuser always was dangerous, but made his best showing in the second round when he nearly floored the champion with a body barrage, and in the fourth when lefts and rights had Rosenbloom groggy.

The Associated Press gave Rosenbloom six rounds, Heuser five, with four even. Rosenbloom weighed 174 pounds; Heuser, 172. A crowd of 11,648 saw the show.

SMILES SPORTS

One Saturday night in John L. Sullivan's grog shop, a stranger stood talking to a little man of about middle age. The stranger was praising Sullivan's fighting prowess.

"John L." the little man replied, "isn't so much as a fighter. I can lick him myself. What's more I'll punch him in the nose any time I feel like it."

"I'll bet you twenty you won't" replied the stranger.

No sooner said than done. The little man walked over to where Sullivan was standing talking to some friends. He swung a right to John L.'s great jaw. Sullivan turned and laughed.

The little man went back and collected his bet.

Later in the evening John L. grabbed the little man and swung him to the top of the bar.

"Boy," roared the Australian champion, "take off your hats to a grand old man—Michael Sullivan—me father!"

BEAN BALLS IN CRICKET—

Ball players who have been worrying about financial affairs are not so bad off as they might be. They at least know where they stand, from day to day, and that is more than can be said of some of the world's great cricket players.

For the cricket batsman now must watch out for the bean ball, and on defense never knows just where he is going to play.

The matters of how a batsman was to bat, a bowler to bowl and the fielders to field came to a head recently when England's cricket team went to Australia.

THE FAST ONE—

It seems that the English had strong bowlers (pitchers to you, Guss). These bowlers are allowed to take an indefinitely long run before delivering the ball. The impetus picked up by a bowler with this running delivery made certain of the British flingers almost as fast as Walter Johnson. Notable among these British bowlers was Larwood.

The Australians developed a technique to combat this speed. The batsman, instead of standing sideways and fighting with one eye according to cricket custom, took a half-turn and more or less faced the bowler. This stance, like that of Heinie Groh, Joe Cronin and a few other ball players, became known as "the two-eyed stance"—and did those Australians start making runs!

THE "LEG THEORY"—

But the English had a way to offset that, too. They adopted what has become known as the "leg theory," putting a lot of fielders on the leg or left-hand side of the batter and then bowling straight at the batsman. This upset the Australian system, making the batsmen as uncomfortable as ball players who might be facing Fred Marberry when he was having a wild day. Many of the Australian players were hit by the English bowlers.

Finally the Antipodeans protested to British authorities that the tactics were unsportsmanlike. The reply was a denial of any impropriety or bad sportsmanship. In so many words, what did the Australians propose to do about it?

All that is left for the Australians, it appears, is to learn how to hit what American ball players call "high, hard ones, inside." Perhaps Al Simmons could go over and coach them in the off season.

Gowell Claset is the giant of the A's squad. . . he is 6 feet 3 1/2 inches tall and weighs around 230 pounds. . . he gained four pounds after his first day's workout at the A's camp at Fort Myers, Fla. . . wait until you see him around July 4th. . . if you do. . . The story that Al Simmons' hand was pierced by a broken golf club is not correct according to George Earnshaw. . . Al was playing golf in Milwaukee last fall. . . he was swinging with an iron and the club hit a rock. . . the shaft cracked and the vibration sent pain tingling through Al's right arm. . . the pain would not respond to treatment. . . finally a doctor ordered five teeth pulled. . . that helped. . . but he still has pains in that arm. . . even when he shakes hands.

The March meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening at the Spoor hotel. There were forty in attendance. The principal topics of discussion were upon the proposed retail sales tax in Illinois and the issuing of scrip to be used locally.

The next meeting, to be held in April, was designated as "farmers' night" and each member is privileged to invite a farmer as a guest.

The New Century Club will hold their regular meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Stiles. Miss Martha Waite will be the leader and her subject is to be "Holland."

The Ogle County Board of Supervisors met in special session Tuesday to take up the question of the bond for the county collector, former bondsmen having written notice on January 26, that they wished to be relieved from further liability. Following a short session in the morning the board adjourned until 1:30 P. M. at which time a bond of $200,000 was tendered by County Treasurer J. J. Farrell, signed by J. C. Seyster, C. M. Gale and J. P. Putnam, J. D. Mead, A. S. Gale and C. A. Farrell. The finance committee rejected the bond which they deemed inadequate as security.

The County will now, it is said, be in position to accept the $10,000 which the courts have ruled as a preferred claim and which is due from the Commercial State Bank of Forreston. The board also approved of the retail sales tax. This is the third meeting of the board, once in regular session, and twice in special session, in an effort to untangle the financial difficulties which came about through the closing of the Oregon State Savings Bank, in which $143,000 of County funds were deposited, and the obtaining of a bond for the County Treasurer.

Mrs. Isabelle Thorne, the former Miss Isabelle Trask, arrived Monday evening for a brief visit with friends. She is enroute to her home in South Worcester, New York, from a visit with relatives in Stuttgart, Ark., and Canton, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leigh, accompanied by the former's brother of Mr. Carroll left Monday for Rochester, Minn., where Ralph will be under observation and treatment at the Mayo Brothers Bad debts are at least good for one thing—they help lower your Federal income tax, due March 15. Debts definitely ascertained to be worthless during the calendar year 1932 may be deducted from your taxable income. Court action to prove that a debt is worthless is not essential, but you must be prepared to show—if called upon—that the debt was a bona fide one which you had expected to collect.

If you were able to collect part of the debt, you can charge off the portion that represented loss.

Henry B. Mayisles observed his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary, Wednesday at his home on South Fourth street. Mrs. Lizzie Miller, ninety-four years of age, of Mt. Morris and a cousin, spent the day at the Mayisles home.

During the next week St. Paul's Lutheran Church will celebrate the eighty-fifth anniversary of its organization. The first gathering of groups for worship were brought together in Oregon, March 16, 1848.

meetings were conducted by Rev. N. J. Stroth, who came as a home missionary from Pennsylvania in 1845. The first church building was erected on the present corner house square in 1850. Later, when the county wished to appropriate the entire square for building and beautifying its surroundings, the present location of the church, corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets, was secured and St. Paul's Lutheran church was erected in 1893. As a fitting observance the services next Sunday will be in keeping with the event. Thursday evening March 16, a congregational get-together supper will be served with a program following and Rev. H. E. Bauman of Rockford, has been secured as speaker. Sunday, March 19th, the sermon will be preached by Rev. Roy Catlin, D. D., president of the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran church, and in the evening of that day, the choir is arranging to present a special musical program.

GOVERNMENT AND RED CROSS SEND AID TO STRICKEN

Roosevelt Asked For Information On Southern California Quake

Washington, March 11—(AP)—President Roosevelt today sought the latest information concerning the seriousness of the California earthquake before turning to other matters.

Already, however, every facility of the government had been offered California officials to aid in relieving distress in the stricken area and there was little more that the President could do.

Early today, Chairman John Barton Payne of the National Red Cross to take charge of earthquake relief.

Payne sent a summary of early reports from Red Cross personnel to President Roosevelt. This report related how A. L. Schafer, manager of the Pacific coast area with headquarters in San Francisco, and J. W. Richardson, disaster relief director on Schafer's staff, had flown to the Los Angeles area on the midnight plane from San Francisco to begin relief work.

Banks Advance Cash

Treasury announced that it had authorized California banks to advance cash needed by victims of the quake and that if additional assistance was needed it would be provided.

Other reports streamed into the White House from Army and Navy units in the Los Angeles area.

A naval radio dispatch said 1,200 bluejackets from the warships at San Pedro had been landed to provide lodging of open buildings and abandoned homes.

Stephen T. Early, a secretary to the President, on his chief's orders, notified the Army and Navy to do all they could and advise Washington if they needed reinforcements.

Health Service

He also advised Perry K. Heath, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of the Public Health Service, to see that that agency was ready to give all possible assistance in enforcing sanitary measures necessary to prevent the spread of disease in the afflicted area.

First reports to the White House early today were that so far as the Navy was concerned there would be no need for help, except by possible additions to medical supplies.

The Navy's hospital ship, Relief, with 31 officers and 365 men and a sizeable supply of medical equipment, was ordered to take a hand in the work as speedily as possible.

BEHOLD HERE TODAY

JANET HILL breaks her engagement with ROLF CARLYLE after learning he has been going steady with BETTY KENDALL, a co-worker of the company for which he works. Janet is secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf is employed in an advertising office. Janet is still much in love with Rolf but he has declared their engagement didn't mean anything and accepted her offer to marry him because she insisted on postponing the marriage until they had saved some money.

Janet is lonely and unhappy. One night on a street car she meets JEFFREY GRANT, young engineer who has recently moved to the rooming house where she lives. A few nights later MOLLY LAMBERT, who lives across the hall, persuades Janet to come on a blind date. Molly's escort is AL SCHILDER and Janet's is FRANK MULLINS, a business acquaintance of Al's.

They go out to dinner. Janet decides Mullins has been drinking and is embarrassed by his attentions. Due to his awkwardness while dancing she jolts against another couple, looks up to see it is Rolf Carlyle and Betty Kendall.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

It was only for the fraction of a second that Janet's eyes met Rolf's. Then he bent his head and said something to the girl in his arms. She smiled and a moment later they were out of sight, lost among the other dancers.

For an instant the lights, the din of the orchestra and the figures of the men and women about them seemed to Janet to blur into a hazy jumble. She felt as though she might fall and clutched at Mullins' shoulder.

He frowned. "That guy bumped into you, didn't he?" he said. "Why don't you think he is? For two cents I'd give him a smack in the jaw! That's what he needs, the big—"

"Oh, no!" Janet whispered, terrified. "Please!"

"Guys can't bump into my girl!" Mullins protested crossly. "Why don't he look where he's going? Where is he now?"

He craned his neck but by this time Rolf and Betty Kendall were across the room. Janet was afraid there would be trouble. She couldn't bear that. Anything in the world but that! She must stop it some way.

"Let's not dance any more," she said quickly. "It's so crowded and the air seems stuffy. I'd rather go back to our table."

"All right," Mullins agreed but the agreement was half-hearted. Slowly they made their way among the other dancers, Mullins continuing his surly protests that "no guy could bump into his girl and get away with it."

Janet sank into the chair with relief. She closed her eyes and then an instant later opened them. Everything about her was just as it had been. The room was like a nightmare.

Mullins held a silver cigarette case toward her. "Have one?" he offered.

She shook her head and he helped himself to a cigarette, lit it and "Listen, baby," he suggested. "Why don't you and I have a little drink together? I've got some swell stuff. It'll do you good!"

Janet smiled. She didn't know quite how she managed it but she said evenly, "No, thanks. I—I don't feel like it just now. But to the theater with you? I hate to leave the party but I know I'd feel better at home. You mustn't come with me—not any of you. Please don't! If someone will call a cab for me I'll just say good-night."

There were objections. They'd all go with her, Al said. He'd go for the car right now. Well, then, Mullins would go. It ended finally as Janet wished, Molly Lambert, reading something in the other girl's eyes, settled that.

"I hate to have you leave, honey," she said, "but of course if you think you'll feel better at home that's the thing to do. And if you'd really rather go alone, that's for you to say. Come on, boys, let's all scram. The show begins at 8:30 and if we don't start we'll miss the first part."

Janet had never in her life been more grateful to anyone than when, as she was getting into the taxicab, Molly caught her hand and squeezed it. "Good-night, honey," Molly said, "I hope you'll feel lots better."

She didn't say anything more but Janet understood. Molly, too, had seen Rolf Carlyle dancing with Betty Kendall.

"I'm sure I will!" Janet assured them. "Good-night."

She did feel better, too, even though an hour later her pillow was wet with tears.

SEVERAL days passed before Janet saw Molly again and when they met little was said about the dinner at Regals'. Frank Mullins returned to Spruce City. Though he telephoned Janet twice she avoided another meeting. Once she was not at home when he called and the second time she was leaving to attend a lecture with Pauline Hayden. It was a lecture by a famous explorer. Someone had given Pauline the tickets and Janet was glad to be invited. Instead of cooking dinner at home now she had dropped into the habit of eating down town with Pauline or one of the other girls.

She liked Pauline better than the others because she never asked questions. All of the girls at the office had known of Janet's engagement. They knew, too, that Rolf wasn't coming to the Every Home office any longer, that he didn't wait for Janet now or meet her at the drug store corner. Such gossip flies quickly in an office the size of the Every Home establishment. Janet overheard Clara Dennison telling two other stenographers that it was all over town that Rolf was going to marry a "swell society girl." She knew the girls whispered other things about herself and Rolf, too.

Determinedly Janet tried to conceal her unhappiness. She tried to forget by working harder, by going for long walks, by taking books from the circulating library. She enrolled at the Y. W. C. A. for a class in beginning French.

Still she could not forget Rolf. She couldn't even hate him.

Interesting Item
Mrs. Joel Senger received a letter from Mrs. L. I. Loveland in which the following interesting item was found: "At a recent meeting of the Governing Board of Bethany College at Lindsborg, Kansas, Prof. L. I. Loveland, formerly superintendent of the Franklin Grove school, was given a permanent rating on the faculty in the department of education and classical languages. The institution is now approved by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges which makes this last advancement of Prof. Loveland all the more notable. The completion of Presser hall for music and the fine arts at a cost of $225,000 fills the last vacant spot on the spacious campus. This building also contains an auditorium of 3000 seating capacity. It may not seem possible, but every seat is taken at the Easter Music Festival when the nationally known music chorus of over 500 voices renders the glorious oratorio of that name."

Community High School Notes
Franklin Grove will play Creston in the district tournament on Thursday. The game will start at 7 o'clock, the first game being between Franklin Grove and Creston. The second, between Kings and Ashton, and the third game between Mr. Morris and Oregon.

The Franklin Grove high school boys have begun their work on track sports. From all appearances and a statement from Prof. Fox, the coach, the team seems to be one of the best. Franklin Grove has ever ushered forth. We'll be expecting a great deal of them and we have a right to do so.

Much interest has been taken in the solo work for the music contests this year. The preliminaries for the contestants here will be held this coming week. The judge has been selected from Dixon.

The Freshmen all enjoyed a good time at the party held at Dale Yocum's home Friday night.

Miss Dismang and Don Zoeller celebrated their birthdays on the same evening by having a scramble supper at the Zoeller home Thursday night. After supper many who were present attended the Amboy theater as a group.

The preliminary declamatory contest will be held March 24th in the school building. The following students are contesting for dramatic: Joan Fish, Mary Hall, Leda Yocum. For the humorous are the following: Barbara Group, Alice Willard, Muriel Weybright. Earl Hunt will be the district contestant for oratory.

Women's Club Notes
The regular March meeting of the Woman's Club was held on Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. F. M. Banker. Seventeen members and three visitors were present. Roll call, "Ideal Homes," brought out various suggestions as to some of the things which help to make an ideal home. A letter from the Amboy Woman's Club was read, inviting us to attend their meeting on March 13, to meet the State President of Federated Clubs, Mrs. Parrel. It is hoped that the local club may be represented at this meeting.

It was decided to continue the project of securing milk for underweight children, as recommended by the County Nurse, in addition to that which is being furnished by the Community Welfare Committee. Mrs. Buck, the president, appointed as the nominating committee: Mrs. Durkes, Mrs. Conlon and Mrs. Banker. This committee to report at the regular meeting in April.

The program was planned and presented by the chairman of Community Service, Mrs. N. L. Reigle. She had asked Mrs. Florence Syverud, home advisor, to meet with the club and explain the organization and activities of the Home Bureau. This she did in a most interesting and delightful way, explaining first the history and then the purpose of the organization—to take the women of the rural sections (farms and small towns) and help provide them with useful plans to fit and equip the home. The work of the Home Bureau, which is educational, includes instruction in an almost endless list of subjects, which are a part of the home-maker's profession. The subjects include: child care, nutrition, home-furnishings, landscaping of home grounds—all these with their many divisions, are just a few of the great variety of subjects, which may be studied through the Home Bureau, without fear or suspicion that there is any commercial interest or advertising behind it. And that is an important consideration in these days.

Mrs. Syverud's talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and at the close she graciously answered various questions concerning the Home Bureau. Mrs. Welsh, who accompanied her, also told something about benefits received from Home Bureau instruction and direction. She spoke particularly of recreation projects, which are much pleasure and benefit to the members and their families. The hostess and social committee served delicious refreshments and a pleasant time was heartily enjoyed. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Syverud for her fine talk and the group dispersed feeling much had been gained from the afternoon program.

W. C. T. U. Notes
The W. C. T. U. met Friday with Mrs. Mary Wolf. This being the World Day of Prayer, the meeting opened with a prayer service, led by Mrs. Greeley, the devotional director of the union. "Some Glad Days" was sung by all present, also a solo, "A Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Ira Buck. Roll call, "Thoughts from the Union Signal," was responded to with quotations from that paper, which were particularly appropriate to present conditions.

A short business session followed. It was voted to make the usual annual contributions to the various lines of work supported by the Union, with the possible exception of the Watch Tower subscription, that to be decided at a later date. A special reminder that all dues are payable by March 18th was expressed in a short dialogue given by Mrs. C. W. Lahman and Mrs. Wolf, entitled, "The Hold-Fast." The program leader, Mrs. Adella Helmershausen, was unable to be present, so she sent the program plan and material, which the program committee endeavored to carry out as far as possible. A short memorial service was given in honor of our recently deceased and dearly-loved sister, Mrs. Mary Maiden. A touching memorial poem, written by Miss Helmershausen, was read. This was followed by a solo given by Miss Adella Helmershausen, a beautiful arrangement of an old hymn, "I Need Thee Every Hour."

The program topic was "Citizenship," and several articles on this subject were read by different members. The general idea advanced by these articles was that the good citizen will seek to know the truth concerning the issues before the people and will weigh the evidences and arguments on both sides of every question; then, after coming to a personal discussion as to which is the right way, will do all in his or her power to make the right prevail.

"Who loves his country will not rest content with vow and pledge alone. But flies her banner in his breast. And counts her destiny his own—Not only when the bugle plays. Stand forth to give his life for her. But on the field of common days. Is strong to live his life for her." At the close of the program, a pleasant social period was enjoyed.

AMBOY AFFAIRS

By MARY F. GRISSOM
AMBOY—William Wenning, attended the State sessions of the Illinois Press association at the State Capitol, Friday and Saturday.

About one hundred friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hillison met at the Methodist church for a miscellaneous shower. A short program was the entertainment planned for the fore part of the evening after which a mock wedding was staged. The bride (Mrs. Anna Mucky), and the groom (Mrs. Beth Compton), and the wedding parade, Mrs. Hazel Reid and Mrs. Mildred Tuttle were the bridesmaids. Doris Tuttle carried the bride's train and Marion Tuttle was the ringbearer. Eileen Alcorn accompanied the group as flower girl. The wedding ceremony was read by Mabel Smith and was written by Mrs. Compton. Mrs. Myrtle Wolcott and Mrs. Gay Bur-ton served as the ushers. After the services the bridal party left the room to the strains of "The Fight is On." Then the real bride and groom, "Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hillison" were the center of attraction as the many beautiful and useful gifts that the crowd had brought were displayed. In appreciation of the many gifts received the newly weds extended an invitation to all those assembled to call on them at their newly established home. Little did they know or think how soon their invitation would be accepted, but hardly had they gotten home when the group of young folks from the church arrived and entertained them with a rousing charivari.

Four of Amboy's music enthusiasts are now members of the Apollo Club of Dixon and meet with them at the Dixon High School each Tuesday night. Those from here who have joined the club are Rev. James Infelt, Miss Frances Cassaday, Miss Ardath Pierson and Mrs. Walter Scott. The club is working on the difficult and new selection by J. S. Bach named "Jesus Priceless Treasure." It will be presented to the public some time in May. Any one who is interested in joining the club for voice training and practice should meet with the club in the music room of the school at Dixon next Tuesday.

The city council of Amboy granted to the Illinois Central the permission to discharge the watchman who is now on duty at the crossing which divides East and West Amboy. There has been considerable argument about the matter and at the last meeting of the Council the question could not be satisfactorily settled so it was tabled till this week's meeting. The watchman will be dismissed only for the hours between eleven P. M. and seven A. M. the agreement read and the railroad company agrees to fully protect the public by good lighting and also having each train

Florida for a month looking after the interests of his orange and grapefruit groves came home this week.

HARMON NEWS
By M. McDermott
Harmon—Charles Greutzmacher, one of seven sons of Fred and Mary Greutzmacher, was born at Kewanee, Wis., on Feb. 22, 1872. It was there that he was baptized and reared in the Christian faith. At the age of 16 years he came to Illinois, and has lived in this state ever since.
Shortly after saying that he was ready if the Lord called, he departed from this life on Sunday morning, Feb. 26, 1933 at the age of 61 years and four days. Death followed an illness of comparatively short duration, the deceased having been confined for a period of but one week. During this week he maintained the cheerfulness and the charitableness which was so characteristic of him.
On Oct. 21, 1902, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Miss Lorena Tompkins. By the grace of God this bond was made sweeter because of the fact that in this home three girls, Hazel, LeEtta and Lucille have been nurtured, ad-mo-nished and loved.
The charitableness, the cheerfulness of the deceased were an example worthy of emulation not only to those in the home, it extended to his fellow workers, to his neighbors and his associates.
Ten years previous, (March 1, 1923) he was seriously injured and, seemingly since that time he was not so rugged as he had been. He was a lover of the great outdoors and his love of life always transcended his infirmities.
Charles leaves to mourn a widow, Mrs. Lorena Greutzmacher, the three girls, Mrs. Lee Mick of Dixon, LeEtta and Lucille, still at home. He also leaves five brothers, Fred, Philip, William, Henry and John.
Burial took place on March 1, brief services at the home at 2 o'clock and at 2:30 at the Trinity Evangelical church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. J. L. Lobaugh assisted by Rev. McKeown of Gray Lakes. The singers were Mrs. Lourde Pluh and Miss Helen Barus. Interment was in Rock Falls cemetery. Those attending the casket were John Fredericks, Goodnight, Rush Miller, William B. Johnson, Fred Sangrey and Earl J. Schuler.
Mr. and Mrs. Greutzmacher and family are former residents of this vicinity, having lived here a number of years before moving to Rock Falls.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams and son motored out from Dixon Sunday to visit her father, Frank O-
